6 TEACHERS ELECTED BY SCHOOL BD.

Six teachers were elected for next fall at the May meeting of the Gettysburg Joint School Board Monday evening at the high school building and resignations of eight members of the teaching staff were accepted. The resignations are effective at the end of the current year.

Three elementary and three high school teachers were elected on recommendation of the teacher and curriculum committee. All salaries were fixed in line with the salary schedule in force that starts beginning teachers at $3,800 and gives experienced teachers extra pay for previous years of teaching and postgraduate training.

Betty Lou Hinkle, Bradford, Pa., who has 14 years of teaching experience, was elected to the high school staff at a salary of $5,000. The two other new high school teachers who have no previous experience are Mrs. Pamela Dulaney Kistler, who will graduate from Shippensburg State College this month, and Daniel R. Brady, McSherrystown, a Delone High School graduate who graduated from King's College and Gettysburg.

3 FOR ELEMENTARY

The elementary teachers chosen Monday are: Jo Ann Johnston, Hagerstown, Juniata College graduate, who will start at $3,800; Mrs. Jean Delzingaro, Shippensburg State College graduate with two years of experience in the Hanover schools, who will start at $4,000; and Constance C. Lee, who studied at Hood and graduated at Towson State College and has a year of teaching experience. She will be paid $3,900.

The list of resignations accepted included: Elementary, Mitzi C. Smith, Mrs. Lois Peterson, Miss Barbara Hankey, Mrs. Nancy Mehl, Mrs. Suzanne Schaffer and Mrs. Eunice Boden, and high school, Mrs. Joyce M. Kempton and Mrs. Emylu Martin.

On recommendation of the same committee, the board gave permission for a band camp this summer. It will be held at Camp Swatara August 28-31.

APPROVE FIELD TRIPS

The board adopted a recommendation from Superintendent Riegle, presented through the teacher and curriculum committee, "authorizing and approving student field trips as a joint school board policy with each individual trip to be approved by the head teacher or principal involved."

The board also added the name of Mrs. Lucille K. Beale, Emmitsburg, to the list of substitute teachers for the high school. She is qualified to substitute in home economics, art and English.

BERMUDIAN TO DEDICATE NEW HIGH SCHOOL

The directors of the Bermudian Springs Joint School district at their May meeting Monday evening at the high school building reviewed final plans for the dedication next Sunday afternoon of the school system's new high school building which went into use in February.

Congressman George A. Goodling will be the principal speaker at the exercises to be held at 2:30 p.m.

Vice President Harry Guise presided at the meeting at which the school authority was directed to install lighting at the entrance to the high school and provide flood lighting of the parking area. Contract for the work was awarded to Paul Winters, York, at a cost of about $1,900.

Other minor work on the new school grounds is being completed and the athletic field is being seeded.

ELECT TEACHER

The board employed Glenn L. Gruver, now teaching in West York elementary schools, as a boys' physical education teacher and head basketball coach. A graduate of the Millersville State College, he will be paid $4,000. George Weigle was employed as a part-time custodian at the new high school.

The board granted a professional contract to Lois A. McMullen after two years of teaching business education.

Alfred R. Billett, the high school principal, presented the revised curriculum for the next school year. Principal changes are to move general science to the 8th

Will Speak At Commencement

Lt. Col. John S. D. Eisenhower will deliver the address at the annual Gettysburg High School commencement-baccalaureate exercises Sunday evening, May 28, in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock.

That announcement was made to the joint school board members Monday evening by Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegle.

Approximately 140 seniors will receive their diplomas at the exercises.

High School Principal Clifford B. Snowberger told the board that the seniors will take their final examinations from May 15 to 19.

On Monday, May 22, the seniors will leave in three buses for a sight-seeing trip in Washington, D. C., and a boat cruise, chaperoned by a group of teachers. About 125 seniors will make the trip, he said.

The buses will return about 2:30 a.m. on May 23.

The remainder of that week will be devoted to meetings for the seniors and commencement rehearsals.

Exams for undergraduates will be conducted from May 25 to 29 and June 1 will be the last day of school, Principal Snowberger said.

LIONS ELECT DAVID BLOSER AS PRESIDENT

David C. Bloser III was elected president of the Gettysburg Lions Club Monday evening after serving as first vice president for the last year. He and other officers chosen Monday will be installed next month and take over their duties July 1.

Bloser will succeed President Richard A. Folkenroth.

Other results of Monday's balloting follow: First vice president, Kenneth R. Dengler; second vice president, Sterling Mussman; third vice president, Attorney S. M. Raffensperger; secretary, Harold L. Ecker; treasurer, J. Herbert Weikert; tail twister, John W. Baschore, and assistant, Elmer Jackson; Lion tamer, Adrian Martin, and assistant, Jack Oyler, and directors, Dr. Gerald Doo, Dr.

HEAR RESERVE OFFICERS

Guest speaker for the Lions, who met at the VFW home, was Capt. Hubert Smith, an Air Force officer from Middletown Depot. His theme was "The Modern Minute Man" and he told the Lions: "The Minuteman of 1776 must always be the symbol of American preparedness and his musket today must be knowledge about the Communist, his aims and how to combat him." Preparedness and national strength are the best defenses against the Communist threat, Smith said. He said the aim of the Reds is to "destroy our

Drowned Man's Body Not Found

Search continued today for the body of Waybright Black Jr., 36, Biglerville R. 1, who drowned late Saturday night in the Potomac River. The Dugan Funeral Home, Bendersville, will make funeral arrangements for the upper Adams sawmill operator and father of eight children when the body is found.

Black had gone with several companions to the Virginia side of the Potomac River Saturday night to fish off rocks near the Chain Bridge. He slipped from a rock while trying to land a catfish and fell into the river. His companions tried desperately to rescue him but the swift current soon washed him down the river. He was within vision of his companions due to the lights on the bridge but they could not reach him. Rescue workers started search for the body almost immediately but up to noon today word had been received here concerning finding of the body.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

The clerk of the courts issued a marriage license today to Edward J. Dillon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Dillon, Orrtanna R. 1, and Miss Patricia A. Morrow, Cashtown, daughter of Floyd J. Morrow, Cashtown, and Mrs. Mary G. Morrow, Rock Hill, Mo.

AGREEMENT ON SCHOOL SETUP IS APPROVED

Favorable votes by a majority of the members of each of the boards of school directors making up the Gettysburg Joint School District Monday night resulted in adoption of a new working agreement for the jointure to go into effect July 3 when the Gettysburg-Freedom merger becomes effective.

The new agreement is substantially the same as recommended by the joint school committee after several months of discussion. A few changes in the typed agreements submitted Monday evening by Attorney John A. MacPhail delayed actual signing of the new agreement but that will be handled by individual board officers.

The new pact puts operation of the jointure's schools in the hands of a 14-member committee, made up of two representatives of each of the present school districts. That arrangement will continue as long as each district has at least two directors. If, in a merger or by some other means, a district should drop to a single director, operation of the jointure will change to a seven-member committee.

THREE COMMITTEES

Operating and capital expenses will be shared on the same basis as at present and transportation will be handled by the member districts. The present committee setup will be consolidated to form only three committees in addition to the operating committee. They would be finance and planning, teacher and curriculum and property and supply. Committee assignments will be made by the presidents of the six-member boards.

The school board Monday evening gave final approval to the district's first million dollar operating budget which had won a preliminary okay last month. The operating budget totals $1,001,420 but school expenses for the 1961-62 year will also include $203,300 in school rentals for new buildings.

The individual boards use the joint school budget in working out their own budgets and setting tax rates.

SHANKS TOOK "OVER $50,000" POLICE REPORT

William Neal Shanks, 26-year-old former bookkeeper of the Penn-Moc Shoe Co., apparently secured "more than $50,000" through checks issued on the company, state police said today.

Cpl. James A. Treas, who said the search for the Littlestown R. 1 man is continuing, said additional checks have come back which make it appear that Shanks secured "in excess of $50,000" from the company. The original estimate when charges were laid last week was "approximately $30,000."

Treas said he estimated about 40 checks have been returned so far.

MAY HAVE CONFEDERATE

In some instances checks were made out to Western Union and money wired to a person whom police believe to have been a confederate of Shanks, or was Shanks himself under an assumed name.

The original charge against Shanks, as filed before Justice of the Peace Anna Thompson, lists $5,326 in checks cashed at the First National Bank of Fairfield; $8,458 in checks to Western Union; $16,728.01 in checks listed to Baltimore Leather Co. and $1,166.45 in checks to Frank Bennifield which police allege Shanks fraudulently converted to his own uses.

Since that time, Cpl. Treas said, a large number of additional checks have come back which allegedly were converted to Shanks' use.

LAST SEEN MAY 1

Shanks was last seen when he left the Penn-Moc office at Fairfield Monday, May 1, at noon. A woman called the company on May 2 to say Shanks was ill and happened along in their 38-foot charter boat, Muriel III, with four passengers aboard. Sees signaled the boat, then later swam out and boarded it. Testimony showed he pulled a revolver and ordered Boatwright and the others into the stern.

When Boatwright grabbed a rifle, Sees shot and fatally wounded him. Before he was shot, Boatwright had radioed the Coast Guard at Miami, Fla., that he had found two men and a girl on Elbow Key.

Table and Sees forced the mate and passengers ashore and sped away. Table's wife refused to go with them.

An hour later a Coast Guard amphibian plane picked up the abandoned party and a Cuban gunboat overhauled Table and Sees the following day when the Muriel III ran aground on an island in Cuban territorial waters.

After their conviction, Table, of Torrance, Calif., and Sees, of Etowah, Ark., appealed to the Privy Council in London but lost.

Officers Are Installed

The Epsilon Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its annual banquet, installed officers and conferred the Ritual of Jewels degree Monday evening at the Lamp Post Tea Room. The officers are, left to right: Miss Betty Snyder, corresponding secretary; Miss Nancy Elledge, recording secretary; Mrs. Eugene Pyles, president; Mrs. Richard McBees, vice president, and Miss Alice Biggins, treasurer.

Gen. Eisenhower Discusses Public Affairs In Opening Article In Post; Out Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower served notice today that as a private citizen he will "discuss and argue" public questions as long as he has the strength and opportunity.

He announced his intention in an article in the Saturday Evening Post—the first he has written since leaving the White House Jan. 20.

He also disclosed that he was not sure he would not have sought a third term—if the Constitution had permitted and if he could have foreseen the Republican defeat in the presidential election.

Eisenhower said his decision to continue to play an active role in public affairs was reached as he and his wife were driving from Washington to their Gettysburg, Pa., farm after President Kennedy's inauguration.

"PERSONAL ADVENTURE"

"Suddenly, it seemed to me, this new life of mine promised a new kind of personal adventure," he wrote.

He said he long had believed the long-term health and vigor of the nation's free government depended on the level of each citizen's interest in America's basic problems "and his readiness to discuss and argue with his fellows."

And, he continued, "I then and there determined to be a participant in such discussions and arguments as long as I might retain the strength and find the opportunity to do so."

Telling of the sights as well as his thoughts on the countryside journey, he said his wife and he were given a heart-warming welcome by students and nuns of St. Joseph College near Emmitsburg, Md.

STIR PUBLIC INTEREST

"And so we approached the farm," he resumed. "But I was still thinking, what next? What

2 Americans Are Hanged In Nassau Prison Today

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Two Americans died on the gallows of Nassau Prison today for the murder of a Florida charter boat captain. They were Alvin Table Jr., and Billy Wayne Sees and were the first Americans ever executed in the Bahamas.

Table, 25, mounted the scaffold at 7 a.m. and an hour later, his partner in crime, Sees, 23, was put to death.

Table and Sees were convicted of slaying Capt. Angus Boatwright, 55, of Islamorada, Fla., on April 24, 1960, at Elbow Key in the Bahamas.

Testimony at the trial showed that Table and Sees stole a 42-foot cabin cruiser in Key West and headed to sea with Table's bride of a month, Barbara, 18, of San Antonio, Tex.

They ran out of gas and the boat drifted onto rocks and broke up. The trio took refuge in an abandoned lighthouse where they remained three days.

Boatwright and his mate, Kent Hokanson, 20, also of Islamorada,

MAN IS FOUND DEAD IN AUTO AT HOME HERE

Lloyd C. Strausbaugh, 48, 133 N. Fourth St., was found dead in his car in front of his home at noon Monday.

In ill health for the last week and under care of a physician, he had been off work, but had driven his car to a garage and then returned to his home. He apparently dozed off in the car after parking it in front of his home and death followed. Members of the family discovered that death had occurred when they tried to arouse Mr. Strausbaugh.

The cause of death was given as acute coronary occlusion.

An employee of the National Park Service here for the last six years he had been employed previously for eight years at the Mechanicsburg Naval Depot.

A native of Westmoreland County, he had resided in Gettysburg since 1917 and was a member of the Gettysburg Methodist Church. He was a son of the late William and Julia Ann (Jeffcoat) Strausbaugh.

Surviving are his widow, the former Geraldine Becker, to whom he had been wed 28 years, and three children, Robert Strausbaugh, at home; Mrs. Paul Ketterman, Gettysburg R. 5, and George Strausbaugh, at home.

Also surviving are six grandchildren and these brothers and sisters: Leo Strausbaugh, N. Fourth St.; Mrs. Allen Bentz, Westminster, and Clarence Strausbaugh, Gettysburg.

Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bender Funeral Home, Carlisle St., with Rev. William Fenstermaker officiating. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery. Friends may visit at the funeral home Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

YWCA ADOPTS NEW HOURS FOR JUNE AND JULY

The YWCA will close each evening at 5:30 o'clock during June and July and will be closed from July 31 to September 5, according to action of the YWCA board at its meeting Monday evening.

Mrs. Willard S. Paul, president, asked members to consider activities for the YWCA in the fall and winter and make suggestions at the forthcoming meetings.

Miss Doris Smith and Mrs. Helen Corbett presented the auditors' report.

Mrs. Conway Williams, chairman of the personnel committee, reported volunteer help assisted in the office last month.

Mrs. Mark A. Eckert reported that arrangements have been made to replace the concrete sidewalk in front of the Y.

TO SPONSOR PLAY

The board expressed its appreciation to Mrs. Paul for her gift of two lace table cloths to the YWCA.

The Y will sponsor the play, "The Reluctant Debutante," at the Totem Pole Theater July 10 as a fund-raising project. Members will be asked to participate in the sale of tickets. The directors will be in charge of the ticket sale.

Mrs. Robert Willis, hospitality chairman, presided at the coffee hour following the meeting, at which the new silver service donated by various organizations and individuals was used for the first time.

WILL ADDRESS BIBLE SESSIONS

Rev. John M. Drescher, Marshallville, O., will be the Missions Bible conference speaker this weekend at the Bethel Mennonite Church. Sessions will be held Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Drescher is president of the Ohio Mennonite Mission Board, a regional overseer in the Ohio Mennonite conference and officer-designate of the Gospel Herald, the official Mennonite Church organ.

Saturday evening he will speak on "The Call Comes to All," Sunday morning "The Christian and His Gift" and Sunday evening "The Local Church and Evangelism."

Music will be provided by a mixed quartet and the Bethel Mixed Chorus.

Spring Grove Man Appeals Fine, Jail

Judge Robert I. Shadle, York, Monday sentenced Clair L. Bollinger, Spring Grove, to three months in jail and fined him $750 for his conviction on five criminal charges.

The defendant filed an appeal with the State Superior Court and the court granted a stay of sentence. Bollinger posted $2,500 bail.

At the same time, the court also handed Bollinger's defense attorney, Victor Dell-Alba, a severe tongue-lashing for trying to excuse Bollinger's alleged violations of the law on the grounds that it was "the custom."

Bollinger formerly operated an office on York St.

BOARD OKAYS RENTAL TERMS FOR SUMMER

The Gettysburg Joint School Board Monday evening gave its approval to a plan by which the high school auditorium would be rented this summer for the presentation of "a first-class play dealing with Abraham Lincoln or the Civil War."

On recommendation of its property committee, which had held a special meeting on the question, the board approved a plan by which the school district is to receive $2,000 in rent for the auditorium, two dressing rooms and rest room facilities. The renters are to pay all expenses, furnish a blanket indemnity bond and obtain liability insurance coverage of at least $100,000.

The committee had learned from Attorney John A. MacPhail that, under the state law, approval of the state Council of Education must be secured. That approval now is being asked.

Bruce Becker, owner and producer of the Tappan Zee Playhouse, Nyack, N. Y., which he found in 1958, told the committee the play to be presented here has not been selected finally but that the plan is to be presented six evening performances weekly, probably Tuesday through Sunday, with two matinees.

The matter had been referred to the property committee last month by the joint board when the request first came before the school board.

John R. Wantz, Emmitsburg, and Helen L. Crouse, Thurmont, have secured a marriage license in Frederick.

JERSEY DRIVER FOUND GUILTY IN AUTO DEATH

Jack E. Meredith, 28, Wayne, N. J., was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter by an Adams County jury Monday afternoon in an auto accident that occurred more than a year ago.

The jury which began deliberating its verdict at 4 o'clock returned with the "guilty" decision at 4:45. Joseph P. Smith, Hanover R. 4, was foreman.

Meredith told the jury he left his work as a textile weaver in Wayne, N. J., at the close of work on the afternoon of April 16, 1960, and started driving south. He said he had made one stop enroute in New Jersey, and had one bottle of beer.

Heading south on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg Rd. he got into a line of cars, of which he was third, behind an auto moving "about 25 miles per hour."

TRYING BAD PASS

He said he stayed in the line for about four miles, not finding any spot where he felt he could pass two cars.

About the time the cars entered Adams County, the car ahead of Meredith passed the slowly moving vehicle. Meredith said he waited until he saw the car had successfully completed its pass, then he attempted to pass the slowly moving vehicle.

He said he saw no headlights of approaching cars until he was alongside the car he was passing. Then he saw the beams of light from a car headed north.

He said he sought to speed up to get around the slowly moving car he was passing. "At the same time he must have thought he could help me get back into my own lane by speeding up also. By this time I saw the car approaching me and tried to turn into the ditch. Apparently he also tried to turn into the ditch" and the two cars collided.

SCHOOLMAN KILLED

Raymond Brown, 43, principal of the Rosemary Hills Elementary School, near Chevy Chase, and a resident of Silver Spring, Md., driver of the north-bound car, was fatally injured in the accident. His wife and children were injured as was Meredith.

Meredith and Robert Ziegler, local photographer, were the only two witnesses for the defense. Ziegler showed pictures he had taken of the scene which showed

MOUNT GIVEN FUND FOR DORM, DINING ROOM

Congressman Charles McC. Mathias Jr. announced Monday that Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, has been granted $1,140,000 to build a new dormitory and expand its dining room facilities.

The money will come from a federal college housing loan.

Mathias says the new dormitory will accommodate 200 students. Dining facilities capable of handling 350 students will be added to the student union building.

He says there are now 100 students living off campus because of lack of housing. The college enrolled 730 students last fall.

Mt. St. Mary's is contributing $360,000 from its own funds to be used in the new building.

NEW SCIENCE LAB

During the last session of the Maryland legislature, the college was granted $500,000 earmarked for construction of a science laboratory. The Mount matched this $500,000 from its own funds.

If the tentative schedule can be maintained, work on the new science building should begin in January, 1962.

Mrs. William F. Culhane, a spokesman for the college, says construction on the new dormitory and dining facilities should begin sometime in June. He says bids will be asked about May 15.

A new library was opened at the college last October.

Mrs. Culhane says the building projects are mainly to relieve the congested conditions now at the

SAYS HAWAII

He said Hawaii has been a territory since 1896 and all persons born there since have been American citizens. "So it amuses me a little when people say 'now that you're a state how do you like being American citizens.' We have been citizens for more than 60 years."

The local student plans to attend law school on the west coast after graduating from Gettysburg and then join his father who is a practicing attorney in Hawaii. President William Lentz presided at the meeting of Rotary Julius Swope and Dr. Kenneth Smoke led group singing. Dr. M. L. Stokes introduced the speaker who illustrated his talk with slides.

Two Choruses Will Sing On Wednesday

An evening of choral music will be presented by the Junior and Senior choruses of the Bermudian Springs Joint High School in the new high school gymnasium Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. They will sing under the direction of Donald Golden of the faculty.

The program will include these Junior chorus selections: "Rolling Hills," "Got a Boat," "A Little Talk with Jesus" and "Whoa Mule." The Senior chorus numbers will include "Hallelujah Amen," "O Rejoice Ye Christians Loudly," "Let There Be Music" and "Senorita's Serenade." There will be a saxophone solo, "Harlem Nocturne," by Judy Ecker and then the Senior chorus will sing "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" and "West Side Story."

There will be 70 Seniors and 35 Juniors taking part. No admission will be charged.

would not be at work, May 3 Carl Filsinger, treasurer of the company, began working with the books and discovered that his name had been forged to some checks and amounts listed did not compare with amounts in the books.

The charges against Shanks followed.

According to police, Shanks, who had been with the Fairfield company for two years and bookkeeper since last July, had a police record elsewhere.

Shanks purchased a car in Hanover several days before he disappeared. Police said they believe he must have disposed of that car and secured another, since no report has been received of sighting of the auto.

Five Treated At Warner Hospital

Five persons were treated Sunday at the Warner Hospital for injuries received in a variety of accidents.

Yvonne Kauffman, 18, Manheim, received treatment for contusions of the right knee suffered when she fell on a stump; Martin Crabb, 29, 507 York St., was treated for a sprain of the left foot sustained when he stepped on a stone; David Wetzel, 4, Fairfield R. 1, received treatment for multiple lacerations of the chin and lips, suffered when he was bitten by a dog.

William Jacques, 24, Trenton, N. J., was treated for abrasions of the knees inflicted in an auto accident near Hanover.

James Jones, 1½, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Jones, 37 W. King St., Littlestown, who fell from a moving auto, was treated for contusions of the right side of the forehead.

6 TEACHERS

All of the teacher and curriculum committee recommendations were presented by the chairman, Hugh C. McIlhenny of the Straban board.

Richard A. Folkenroth, elementary coordinator, reported on the elementary evaluation conducted in the local schools last Thursday and Friday by a team of visiting educators.

Superintendent Riegle commended Mr. Folkenroth and the grade school teachers here for a "stupendous amount of work" done in preparation for the evaluation. "Mr. Folkenroth and the whole elementary staff deserve a tremendous amount of credit for their interest and energy in this undertaking," Riegle said.

Mr. Folkenroth exhibited a 400-page elementary course of study developed here in preparation for the evaluation.

The meeting adjourned at 10:10 p.m. with meeting of several individual boards following.

building by June 1. State approval of the plans will have to be secured then and advertisements for bids issued before the bids can be opened and contracts awarded for the new high school unit.

At another stage of the meeting, the board gave the Gettysburg School Authority permission to solicit bids from several firms for the preparation of the prospectus to be issued in connection with the forthcoming sale of bonds to pay for the new school building.

The joint board accepted the recommendation of the school psychologist that five children be required to delay their entry into First Grade for one year. Names of the children were not given.

The directors re-elected Drs. Harrison F. Harbach and Raymond F. Sheely as school physicians; Dr. Donald Wickerham and Dr. James W. Sheppard as school dentists; attendance officer, Leo C. Riley; Brown, Swope and MacPhail as solicitors, and the First National Bank as treasurer.

USE SCHOOL FACILITIES
The board authorized use of school facilities for the Region Three All State Chorus on May 10, 11 and 12, 1962. Permission was given a Marine Corps rifle company to use the high school parking lot June 4; Miss Margaret Brant was given use of the Eisenhower School for a school lunch personnel workshop on August 23 and the state association for the blind will use the Eisenhower School grounds for its mobile eye clinic in June.

Bills totaling $6,955 were ordered paid. Riegle announced a regional council of school directors' meeting to be held May 22 at Susquehanna High School at 7:30 p.m. with all school directors invited to attend for a discussion of current legislation.

The monthly report of the treasurer, the First National Bank, showed a balance of $13,994 after receipts of $86,674 and expenses of $77,038 in the last month.

CAFETERIA REPORTS
These reports were given on the three school cafeterias for 20 days of operation in April: High school, an average of 884 student and 27 adult lunches daily with income of $7,397 and expenses of $7,004 for the month leaving a profit of $393; Eisenhower school, an average of 611 student and 22 adult lunches daily with income of $4,164 and expenses of $3,918 for a net profit of $245, and Keefe School, an average of 563 student and 35 adult lunches daily with income of $3,941 and expenses of $3,932 for a profit of $9.

The "profit" from cafeteria operations goes into the cafeteria fund for replacement of supplies and equipment.

The monthly activities fund report showed a current balance of $20,781.

President Ralph W. Guise presided at the meeting with an unusually good attendance, 33 of 37 directors present. The absentees were John Settle of Cumberland Twp., Harry Hall of Franklin Twp., Frank Bowersox Jr. of Freedom Twp. and Mrs. Dorothy Nichols of Gettysburg.

sons who have requested appointments have been examined. Later visits are arranged.

An advance announcement of the clinic plans explains that "many persons because of financial problems have neglected to have an eye examination and this is an opportunity to obtain a complete examination to be sure your eyes are free of disease. Fifty per cent of all blindness is preventable if discovered in time and treated properly."

Persons eligible for free examinations in the clinic include persons in these groups: Persons receiving a pension for the blind, persons receiving assistance from the county or state; persons who do not pay a federal income tax and persons who can demonstrate their inability to pay a private doctor for eye care.

To obtain an appointment, interested persons should write to Miss Betsy M. Shank, Prevention Consultant, Pennsylvania Association for the Blind, 1607 N. Second St., Harrisburg, Pa. Urging prompt requests for appointment, clinic representatives say the writer should give his or her name, address, birth date, financial eligibility and location for the examination.

Mad Dog Meets Death On Road: Charles Black, living along the Taneytown road several miles from town, shot and killed a mad dog near his home Sunday afternoon after having been warned by telephone that the rabid animal was coming his way.

The dog was first observed by Paul Weaver who resides on the Lott farm, with Jacob Shovers, Carma Smith and James Weaver. He saw the dog running along the road with head and tail down and frothing at the mouth. They prepared to get after it but the beast was traveling too fast and they decided to send word ahead.

Accordingly the telephone was brought into play and Harry Black's home was called. Mr. Black's son, Charles, went out to the road with a shotgun and in a few moments he saw the animal coming. He jumped over the fence to a place of safety on a pile of posts. The posts started to roll and Mr. Black was thrown down, the affair making quite a racket to which the dog paid no attention whatever. As soon as Mr. Black recovered himself he sent the contents of the gun into the dog, ending its misery.

The Seminary Commencement: The commencement of the Gettysburg Theological Seminary will be held next week, the exercises of the week beginning with the baccalaureate sermon which will be preached to the graduates Sunday morning in college church by Dr. J. A. Singmaster, chairman of the faculty.

Wednesday evening at half past seven there will be a meeting of the alumni in the Seminary Chapel, an address being made by Dr. Albert Bell, of York. This will be followed by a collation in the new refectory.

Improvements At County Home: At the meeting of the Board of Poor Directors held on Monday it was decided to make improvements to the County Home which will add greatly to the appearance of the grounds and buildings.

The woodwork of all the buildings is to be repainted as is also the steward's house. This is badly needed and will be done as soon as possible. Cement walks are to be laid leading to all of the buildings. At the present time there are almost no walks at the institution and, with the exception of the path leading to the main building, there is nothing deserving the name of a path about the place.

Chautauqua For Gettysburg Last Week In August: An undertaking of unusual value has been launched by several energetic and public spirited citizens of Gettysburg in the shape of a chautauqua to be held here the last ten days in the month of August. The originators of the plan style themselves the Gettysburg Battlefield Lyceum Bureau and have the hearty cooperation of the business man of town, the assurance of an exceptionally fine course of attractions for the ten-day chautauqua, and all the preliminary details arranged for one of the best and biggest things Gettysburg has ever had.

National Guard Law: Provision for the National Guard for years to come is made in the new "National Guard code."

The Act will take effect on June 1 and the most important provision from a popular standpoint is that no major general may hold command of the division for more than five years. The present commander is Major General C. B. Dougherty, of Wilkes-Barre. Five brigadiers general are authorized. The term of enlistment is made three years and the age limit is 45. The Guard is authorized in time of peace to 160

Today's Talk

MIND NOURISHMENT
The world keeps unfolding all the time. But it is only as the mind is nourished that one is able to see the increasing worth in all things.

There is something very joyous about things physical—but there is nothing to compare with the rightly nourished mind, with its fullness of wisdom, its marvelous appreciation, and its ability to go into the furthestmost part of the earth, as well as of time.

And one of the best things about mind nourishment is that it is derived from people. The mind is nourished by what it bounds from other minds. In fact, it bounds from mind to mind like a bee hunting its honey, seeking the choicest nectar from a world of source.

The rightly nourished mind is the embodiment of vast growth and experience. It is slow to anger and quick in its forgiving. And the more mature and ripened it is, the simpler it is in its life. Just as the ripe fruit wants to be plucked—waiting to give all that it is from all that it has been able to gather—so the nourished mind is a generous mind.

You must use every opportunity to improve your mind, to make it more of an ally to you. It will then keep re-enforcing you in all your plans.

You must keep out destroying thoughts. You must keep washing it to drive away its destroyers just as the tree men spray trees—that perfect fruit will result.

Then, too, the properly nourished mind is much happier than any other. Being so full of all that it has absorbed, it feels a bursting desire to give. And that is the greatest thing about the rightly nourished mind.

Mind your mind and it will keep you feeling young and full of ginger.

There is no health of body without health of mind.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Huge And Thoughtful Night"

Just Folks

ALWAYS SOMETHING TO DO
There will always be something to do, my boy.

There will always be wrongs to right;

There will always be need for a manly breed

And men unafraid to fight.

There will always be honor to guard, my boy.

There will always be hill to climb,

And tasks to do, and battles new

From now to the end of time.

There will always be dangers to face, my boy.

There will always be goals to take;

Men shall be tried, where the roads divide,

And proved by the choice they make.

There will always be burdens to bear, my boy.

There will always be need to pray;

There will always be tears through the future years

As loved ones are borne away.

There will always be God to serve, my boy.

And always the flag above;

They shall call to your untill life is through

For courage and strength and love.

So, these are things that I dream, my boy.

And have dreamed since your life began.

That whatever befalls, when the old world calls,

It shall find you a sturdy man.

Urges Vote For Sunday Sales

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette in an editorial today urged Pittsburgh residents to vote "yes" on the sale of liquor and brewed beverages in hotels on Sunday.

The question comes up for a vote next Tuesday in the primary. Voters in Philadelphia also will cast ballots on the referendum.

"As matters stand now, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia lose much weekend convention business because they can't compete with cities where Sunday liquor sales are permitted," the newspaper said. It added:

"We think the hotels ought to have a better opportunity to compete for the business they are losing. No question of morality or public order is involved since the person who wants to drink on Sunday has plenty of opportunity to do so without patronizing a hotel. An affirmative vote would give the hotels a badly needed financial boost. We hope they get it."

SHEPARD EYES
FUTURE WORK IN SPACE FIELD

By FRANK CAREY
WASHINGTON (AP) — The shouting is over and the nation's homage is his, but astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., isn't resting on his space laurels.

Shepard, America's first man in space, promised "we plan to press ahead with the best possible speed."

The next major mission is rocketing one of the seven astronauts into orbit around the earth. The orbit flight is scheduled for sometime this year. But space agency chief James E. Webb cautioned: "If we are to have our spectacular successes—with even larger and ever more complex rockets, the early test flights unmanned of course, will involve some spectacular failures."

"DAY OF PRIDE"
But the applause and accolades Monday were for a "spectacular success"—Navy Cmdr. Shepard 115-mile voyage into space.

It was a day of pride and sentiment, tribute and humor for the calm man who—as one of his superiors put it—"really broke the ice for all of us."

He was decorated by the President, lauded by Congress, cheered by thousands as he was driven through the capital and—probably as important as any of the honors to him—was kissed by his family.

Also, in a nationally televised news conference, he gave a capsule view of his ride through space.

WAITED IN SOLITUDE
Last Friday morning, Shepard sat for more than four hours in the loneliness of his capsule before the rocket blasted off from Cape Canaveral for his 15-minute flight to glory.

Flanked on the news conference platform by his fellow astronauts and the leaders of the nation's space program, Shepard told his story with composure and wit.

As he unfolded the details of his flight in response to questions, Shepard repeatedly drew applause from newsmen—an unusual tribute.

The applause was not so much for the events of the flight, which he showed a tendency to underdramatize, for his forthright way of handling queries. When he was asked if after he was picked to make the first ride into space he wished he was "in something else other than Project Mercury," Shepard replied: "That is the easiest question I have heard to day. No."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will not hold a news conference this week. The White House said Monday the next news conference may be held either May 18 or May 19.

MISS FISSEL
BRIDE SUNDAY
AT ST. PAUL'S

Miss Fay Lois Fissel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Fissel, 39 Prince St., Littlestown, and Dorsey Franklin Blickenstaff, son of Dorsey E. Blickenstaff, 282 Union St., York, and the late Mrs. Miriam E. Blickenstaff, were united in marriage on Sunday at 2 p.m. in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Littlestown.

The Rev. Lawrence H. Roller, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the couple. Mrs. Karl P. Bankert, church organist, presented an organ recital prior to the ceremony and played the traditional wedding marches. She was accompanied for the soloist, Robert B. DeGroot, Littlestown. The altar was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli and carnations, palms and candelabra. The pew arrangements were white satin bows and foliage.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The fitted bodice had long sleeves tapering to a point over the hands and the sabrina neckline was trimmed with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt, worn over a hoop, was fashioned with an underskirt of tulle accented with lace medallions with a lace overskirt falling into points. Her bouffant fingertip length veil of French silk illusion fell from a matching lace crown. She carried a crescent arrangement of gardenias, stephanotis and ivy.

IN WEDDING PARTY
Miss Donna Eckfeld, Pittsburgh, was maid of honor and she wore a ballerina length gown of embroidered white nylon organza over blue taffeta. The bodice was styled with a scoop neckline and a blue taffeta midriff. The bouffant skirt featured a scalloped hemline. She wore a matching blue organza petal hat with a chin veil. Miss Eckfeld carried a cascade bouquet of pink and white flowers with ivy and white satin streamers.

The bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Wade, Hydes, Md., and Mrs. Elwood R. Crone, Dover R. 4. They wore gowns and hats identical to the maid of honor, and carried cascade bouquets of assorted spring flowers and ivy streamers.

The mother of the bride was attired in a Paris pink silk shantung dress with pink and white accessories.

The bridegroom chose for his best man, Elwood R. Crone, Dover R. 4. Barry A. Fissel, Littlestown, brother of the bride, and Avey Horine, Towson, Md., served as ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social hall. Approximately 125 wedding guests were in attendance.

The bride was graduated from the Littlestown Junior-Senior High School with the class of 1960, and the Pennsylvania State University in 1960. She is now teaching second grade at the Red Lion Elementary School.

Her husband is a 1960 graduate of William Penn Senior High School, York, and is employed by the York City Police Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Blickenstaff will reside at 282 Union St., York.

For his nine-year career as a Yankee, Whitey Ford shows 28 shutouts.

"The Facts of Life," starring Lucille Ball and Bob Hope, will be featured at the Cross-Keys Drive-in Theater Friday and Saturday. Produced and directed by Norman Panama and Melvin Frank, the show is a comedy with serious undertones about life in suburbia.

Jack Lemmon and Ricky Nelson star in the Sunday, Monday and Tuesday show, "The Filmed in CinemaScope and Wackiest Ship in the Army." Eastman color, the production is penned from a screen story by Herbert Margolis and William Raynor based on Herbert Carlson's story.

Lemmon plays a wartime Navy lieutenant who eagerly awaits his first command on a beat-up sailing vessel.

INTEGRATION
CASE ARGUED

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The federal government resumes today its plea to be allowed to intervene as co-plaintiff in an effort to have Prince Edward County's integration-closed public schools reopened on a desegregated basis.

St. John Barrett, special assistant to the assistant U.S. attorney general for civil rights, had begun stating his case late Monday when Judge Oren R. Lewis adjourned federal court until today for another round in the legal battle.

During arguments by both the government and counsel for Prince Edward County, one of the parties to the original cases on which the U.S. Supreme Court based its 1954 desegregation decision, Judge Lewis repeatedly indicated he thought questions had been raised requiring state adjudication.

All public schools in Prince Edward County were shut down in 1959 after a federal court ordered them desegregated. Since then the county's white children have been educated in private schools supported by grants of public tuition. Most of the Negro children have gone without formal education.

Barrett said the Justice Department felt it had a right and duty to intervene in court cases when it was a question of implementing and protecting decrees of U.S. courts.

The bride was graduated from the Littlestown Junior-Senior High School with the class of 1960, and the Pennsylvania State University in 1960. She is now teaching second grade at the Red Lion Elementary School.

Her husband is a 1960 graduate of William Penn Senior High School, York, and is employed by the York City Police Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Blickenstaff will reside at 282 Union St., York.

DEATHS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP) — Carmel Snow, 73, a leading fashion authority for more than 25 years and retired editor of Harpers Bazaar magazine, died Sunday, apparently of a heart attack. She served as editor of Harpers from 1932 to 1957 and upon her retirement was named chairman of the magazine's editorial board. She was born in Dublin, Ireland.

ORANGE, N. J. (AP) — Robert Campbell Sr., 79, industrialist, died Sunday after a brief illness. He had been president of the Celuloid Corp. of American, senior partner in the New York investment banking house of Marshall, Campbell & Co., and a vice president of several other firms. He was born in Kircaldy, Scotland.

PLAINFIELD, N. J. (AP) — Charles Benson Wigton, 75, co-founder of the Wigton-Abbott Corp. and one of the pioneers of the package plant construction idea, died Sunday after a long illness. Wigton, who served as mayor of Plainfield in 1933-34, was born in Philadelphia.

MOTHER OF 6
IS HONORED

NEW YORK (AP)—A Tennessee mother of six, who helped to abolish the whipping post in Georgia and has been foster mother to hundreds of dependent or delinquent children, was named American Mother of 1961 today.

Winner of the annual selection from state mothers across the nation is Louise Sevier Giddings Currey, 58, of Lookout Mountain, Tenn.

She was cited for rearing her own children—including home tutoring for many years of four who were unable to go to school because of ill health—and for her efforts in improving the housing and treatment of juvenile delinquents, neglected and dependent children, and mentally or emotionally disturbed children, regardless of race or creed.

Her role in the abolition of the whipping post in Georgia grew out of a trip she made to that state on behalf of one of her delinquent young charges.

Her current projects are a residential treatment center for disturbed children, and a home for juveniles returning from vocational training schools.

VOTE $372 TO REPAIR ROADS

The Arendtsville borough council, at its monthly meeting Monday evening, in secretary Lawrence Myers's residence voted to allocate $372.96 which will be received from the county for its share of gasoline tax for street repair and patching. It was noted that many of the streets are in poor condition due to the winter snows.

The council reappointed John Stover to fill his unexpired term. Stover had resigned earlier in the year.

Receipts during April totaled $927, of which $925 was from the state for highway aid fund. Expenditures were $72.62.

At a water authority meeting after the borough session, the members voted to change the recently enacted ordinance to read that a $48 levy be imposed on residents who have air conditioners with a tower. This would average out to about $1 per month extra for an air conditioner using the town water supply. The change will be submitted to the solicitor and final approval is expected to be given at the next meeting.

Bills amounting to $647 were approved for payment, including a $500 payment to the Hood Engineering Co.

President Paul Burgoon presided at the meeting. Five members attended.

PISCATAWAY, N. J. (AP) — Carefully pasted in an oversized scrapbook belonging to 31-year-old William Seifert are 2,500 newspaper headlines and photographs, telling the day-by-day story of World War II.

Seifert was 10 when he began his hobby in 1939. Since then he has managed to record some where in his collection a newspaper clipping about every major campaign, but he's not completely satisfied. "The Italian and Sicilian campaigns are not as well represented as they could be," says Seifert, an electronics designer. So he continues looking for old newspapers.

Warriors Top Waynesboro 4-3 In Two Extra Frames; Play At Biglerville Tonight

Gettysburg High's Warriors pulled to within one game of the league-leading Chambersburg outfit by nipping Waynesboro 4-3 after two extra innings in a South Penn League game here Monday afternoon.

Ken Hull led off the last of the ninth with his second double. Bob Buchanan ran for Hull. Larry Eckert popped out on an attempted sacrifice. Tommy Collins singled to move Buchanan to third from where he scored the winning and the tie breaking run on Mark Eckert's single between third base and shortstop.

The Warriors jumped on Ron Royster, Waynesboro's starting groundsman, for three runs in the opening inning. With one out, Mark Eckert smashed the first of his three singles. He was forced at second base by Terry Hise but Greg Maitland and Ken Chapman followed with singles and Eddie Gastley was safe on an outfield error to account for the run.

Waynesboro picked up a pair of runs in the fifth on a single by Gary King, a walk to Tommy Robinson, an outfield fly and a single by Gordie Bateman.

The Indians knotted the score with a run in the seventh on a walk to King, single by Robinson and a pair of outs.

Eddie Gastley turned in a game-saving play in the fifth when he took Jeff Hovis' fly in left field and doubled Dave Hovis at the plate with a perfect throw after Hovis attempted to score from third following the catch.

FOURTH VICTORY

Larry Eckert hurled the route for Gettysburg, yielding seven hits while fanning six, and pitched out of several jams. He is 4-0. Orville Cronauer, who relieved Royster in the third, was charged with the loss. He fanned 10 batsmen during his relief role.

Hull had a pair of doubles and Tommy Collins two singles to follow Mark Eckert in the hitting department.

Today the Warriors, 5-3 overall, were scheduled to make up a postponed league game at Biglerville.

NEW YORK (AP) — The new National League team that will play in New York in 1962 still hasn't got a ball player but it finally has a name—the Mets.

Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, principal stockholder in the club, christened the new team Monday after sifting through 644 names and 9,613 suggestions.

One fellow suggested "Apple Throwers," and another the "Buffalo Chasers." There were "Astrotrons," "Hatchet men," "Spartan men," "Skyscrapers," "Continentalers" and everything from "Able" to "Zorro."

As the newspapers had been calling the team the Mets for many weeks, the official christening actually merely followed the trend.

The club announced a contest with a $1,000 prize for the best team emblem.

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP) — Villanova track coach Jim Elliott says he will seek official recognition of Olympian Frank Budd's clocking of .093 seconds for the 100-yard dash which equaled the world record.

Budd, a 20-year-old junior who was stricken with polio when he was nine years old, reached a milestone in his career Saturday when he matched the record in a triangular meet which included St. Joseph's and Georgetown (D.C.).

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob McCord of the champion Springfield Indians is the winner of the Eddie Shore Plaque as the American Hockey League's outstanding defenseman for 1960-61, it was announced today.

McCord, 27, collected 23 of a possible 35 points in balloting by hockey writers and broadcasters in each of the seven AHL cities.

New Candidates For Big Little League To Drill

All new candidates for the Big Little League teams are asked to report at the field at the recreation park Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at 6 o'clock for tryouts.

Players already assigned to teams will not report until team practices begin next week.

Following the third practice session for the newcomers, all managers and directors will meet at the Eagles home to purchase players and transact other business.

The Exchange Club has secured Harold "Gus" Dayhoff as manager for its entry, it was announced Monday.

Team practices are scheduled for each evening next week and managers will announce the dates for their teams later.

WALT ALSTON PLEASED WITH DODGER POWER

By GEORGE ESPER
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Manager Walt Alston said today his Los Angeles Dodgers are showing more power than he anticipated but it is too early to predict whether the trend will continue.

One thing Alston was certain of, however, was that the Dodgers will have to eliminate some of the mistakes they've been making if they hope to go anywhere in the National League race.

He praised his young ball club, sprinkled with rookies, then pointed out some of the mistakes. "We've been running the bases poorly and throwing at the wrong bases."

WORK ON FUNDAMENTALS

Alston said that his job and that of coaches Pete Reiser and Leo Durocher was to see that the players don't make mistakes. "We've been working on fundamentals as much as we can," said Alston. He said Reiser has been working with outfielder Willie Davis and Durocher with third baseman Tommy Davis.

Meanwhile, the Dodgers moved into their third place in the National League Monday night, a half game ahead of the Pittsburgh Pirates, by defeating the Philadelphia Phillies 4-3 in 10 innings on Gil Hodges run-scoring pinch hit double in the extra frame.

MOON LEADS LEAGUE

But it was a two-run homer by Willie Davis in the seventh inning which sent the game into extra innings and set up the victory. On Sunday the Dodgers belted three homers in beating Pittsburgh 4-2. The Dodgers' Wally Moon leads the National League in homers with nine while teammate Tommy Davis is among the top three with six.

"Moon has made the big difference," said Alston in discussing the Dodgers' prolific home run production. "We've hit more homers at this time than at the same time last year."

FARRELL WINS

Alston also had some good words for newly-acquired relief pitcher Dick Farrell, obtained last week in a trade with the Phillies.

The big right-hander came on in the seventh inning Monday night in relief of Stan Williams and pitched four scoreless innings, giving up four hits, to gain his first victory as a Dodger. His overall record is 3-1. Last Friday Farrell pitched three innings of one-hit relief to preserve a victory for Johnny Podres.

"I'm very satisfied with Farrell," said Alston. "He's always been tough. He can pitch pretty often and he throws hard. It's possible he will give (Larry) Sherry more rest in the late innings."

Geoffrion Named "Most Valuable"

MONTREAL (AP) — Bernie Geoffrion, whose late-season surge carried him to a record-equaling 50 goals, was named the National Hockey League's most valuable player for the 1960-61 season today.

The 30-year-old Montreal right winger edged Johnny Bower, veteran Toronto goalie, and Gordie Howe of Detroit, a five-time MVP, in the split-season voting by hockey writers and broadcasters in the six NHL cities.

Geoffrion drew 84 points, Bower 71 and Howe 66 in the final tabulation. In the first half balloting which included games of Dec. 29, Bower led with 48 points while Geoffrion was fourth with 29.

ITALIAN VERY CONFIDENT HE CAN WIN FIGHT

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Italy's Giulio Rinaldi is confident he will beat Archie Moore again but the betting today is 12-5 in favor of the aging light heavyweight champion.

There's still a month and a day before the two clash at Madison Square Garden June 10 and the odds can switch considerably before then. It will depend on how the swarthy, thick-necked Italian champion looks in his workouts and how old Archie fares in his perennial battle with the scales.

Archie hasn't been forced to make the 175 pound limit since Aug. 12, 1959, when he flattened Yvon Durelle in the third round of their second title fight. The ancient gladiator scaled 201 in Manila last March 25 when he outpointed Buddy Turman.

AGE IS REASON

Moore weighed 190½ to Rinaldi's 181½ in Rome last Oct. 29 when the Italian upset Archie in a non-title 10-rounder that earned him the title shot.

That loss—Moore's first to a light heavyweight in 9½ years—is one of the reasons for handsome Giulio's confidence in the return. Another is age—26 to 44. Talking to newsmen after his arrival from Italy Monday, he explained that he didn't do well against Archie in the early rounds "because I had so much respect for him and I was too timid."

"But I went after him good in the eighth, ninth and tenth rounds," he said in Italian as an interpreter translated.

Moore is recognized as Massachusetts champion in New York, Massachusetts and Europe. Harold Johnson of Philadelphia is hailed as champion by the NBA.

Moul Leader In Bowling Tourney

Eldon Moul, Hanover, took an early lead in the first annual year end singles tournament at the Edgewood Bowling Lanes Sunday.

Moul turned in a high game score of 267 and moved into the lead in the handicap division with a 632. Trailing right on the heels of the Hanover bowler is Gene Ouren of Littlestown. Ouren turned in the best performance for an actual game series with a 583.

The daily prizes went to Ouren and Moul for their high series and game performance, respectively, while George Danner, Harrisburg, took the high handicap series with a 620 and Bill Dayton, Gettysburg, captured the single game handicap honors with a 221.

The tournament continues through June 4.

COLLEGE WAA PLANS DINNER ON THURSDAY

Miss Dorothy Richardson, physical education instructor at Wilson College, Chambersburg, will be the guest speaker at the annual Women's Athletic Association banquet at the Gettysburg College dining hall Thursday evening at 6 o'clock.

Miss Richardson, a native of Glasgow, Scotland, is currently coaching swimming, hockey and lacrosse at Wilson. She plans to stay in the United States for two years which time she will study for master's degree in health and physical education.

Following the dinner, varsity charms will be awarded to the girls who have participated in hockey and basketball while girls will be awarded to girls who have accumulated 600 points. Girls who have reached 1,000 points during their four years at Gettysburg will receive varsity blazers.

AWARD TROPHIES

Trophies will also be presented to the first and second place winners of the women's intramural championships. The two awards, which will be decided by Thursday, have been narrowed down to Gamma Phi Beta and Delta Gamma societies.

Miss Linda Rohrer, president of the WAA, will serve as toastmistress. Miss Grace C. Kenney is head hockey coach at Gettysburg while Miss Shirley O'Day is girls' basketball coach. Miss Nancy Mitchell is adviser of the Women's Athletic Association and will be in charge of the program.

TO DECIDE ON GROUP REPORT ON CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

HARRISBURG (AP)—The scope of a report on the value of capital punishment will be discussed today at a legislative committee meeting called by Sen. Benjamin R. Donolow, D-Philadelphia.

Donolow is chairman of a six-member committee of Senate and House members which held hearings in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg on proposed legislation to abolish the death penalty in Pennsylvania.

Donolow, a criminal lawyer, said today he was calling the meeting to discuss what kind of report his group will make to the General Assembly. He explained:

TO MAKE DECISION

"I will ask the committee to decide whether we should merely submit a summation of testimony taken during the public hearings and thus leave action up to the legislature, or whether we should make a specific recommendation either for or against the abolishment of capital punishment."

Donolow said he had started writing an analysis of the testimony and that each committee member would be entitled to do the same if he so desired.

Most of those appearing at the hearings thought the death penalty wasn't necessarily a deterrent to crime.

The legislature will recess for the week of the primary election May 16.

Education continues to be a frequent topic among legislative leaders.

Pittsburgh's Bob Friend faced 1,118 National League batters in 1960 and didn't hit one man.

Set Up Cold War Center 24 Hours

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new cold war operation center has been set up by the State Department to keep round-the-clock watch on world crises.

Its function is to see that recommendations for dealing with crises are made promptly to Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and through him to President Kennedy and to make certain that the decisions reached by Kennedy and Rusk are promptly implemented.

Formation of the center and its responsibilities were disclosed Saturday by the State Department. The new agency is headed by Theodore C. Achilles, 55, a veteran foreign service officer who had a major role in drafting the North Atlantic Treaty.

Disclosure of the center's existence followed State Department announcement that Stephen E. Smith, 33, a brother-in-law of President Kennedy, had been appointed special assistant to Achilles.

HIKERS CAUSE MUCH TROUBLE FOR INNKEEPER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A woman innkeeper said Monday a drenched troop of hikers—including a Supreme Court justice, a senator and a Cabinet member—turned her place into a picnic area without so much as a "by your leave."

"I came in and found them like sardines in my cocktail lounge, sitting on the bar and eating their own food," said the innkeeper, Mrs. John T. Reges.

Mrs. Reges, the wife of the proprietor of the Old Anglers Inn reacted swiftly: "In a loud voice—in German—I told my maitre d', 'I will give you 10 minutes to get these people out of here.'"

THEY DIDN'T ASK

"After they were gone," said Mrs. Reges, "I found out who they were. If they had asked me first, I would have made arrangements, given them a room to dry out in, made them tea. But they didn't ask, they just came in."

The hikers, about 170 strong, were nearing the end of a sodden 16-mile course along the old C&O Canal route from Seneca, Md., to Washington Saturday when they stopped at the inn near the Great Falls of the Potomac. Among them were Justice William O. Douglas, Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., and Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

ROLLS-ROYCE HURT BY TAX

LONDON (AP)—The Rolls-Royce, limousine of the truly opulent, may be on the way out. The company that has built plush autos for kings, oil rich sheikhs, millionaires and film stars faced a financial crisis.

The trouble is caused by the recent British government law limiting to 2,000 pounds—$5,600—the income tax deduction for automobiles for company executives.

Lord Kindersley, chairman of Rolls-Royce, has warned the government that his company has been so hard hit by the tax law the firm's car division may have to cease production.

REPORTS SHOW MILK DRINKING OFF IN STATE

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP)—One of the major concerns of the dairy industry is the declining per capita consumption of most milk products.

The problem is one of particular concern in Pennsylvania because most of the state's dairy production goes into the fluid milk markets of the East—and fluid milk is one of the commodities showing a big decline.

Per capita consumption of dairy products is the only real yardstick of demand. Total milk production is high and is expected to set a new national record this year in excess of the peak 124.9 billion pounds produced in 1956.

NO OVERALL FIGURES

There are no over-all figures on Pennsylvania per capita consumption. Where figures have been collected in the past they have shown results in line with the national averages.

Nationally, per capita consumption has been slipping since 1956, when the usage of whole milk amounted to 306 pounds a year.

The figure in 1960 was 287 pounds.

Consumption on an individual basis reached its peak during World War II when wartime purchases boosted the averages. However, in wartime much of the production went into strictly non-food use. For example, certain high explosives were manufactured from animal fats. The top per capita usage was 335 pounds per person in 1945. Usage dropped sharply after the war.

TAKING HARD KNOCKS

The dairy industry nationally has taken some hard knocks in recent years which have been complicated by the perennial farm problem of overproduction.

First of the major setbacks was the upsurge in consumption of margarine—produced with vegetable fats—since World War II. Its per capita consumption topped butter consumption about five years ago. Butter usage was down to 7.6 pounds per person last year, compared to 10.7 pounds a decade ago.

Very little of Pennsylvania's milk production goes into butter. But the big midwestern butter-producing states have been forced to take action to secure other markets for their milk production.

As a result they are taking a long look at means of moving into the huge Eastern urban markets. Consequently, the decline in butter consumption may indirectly pose serious competitive problems for Pennsylvania in the future, while not resulting in any serious direct effect.

Pennsylvania producers presently operate under the protective cloak of the State Milk Control Commission and local dairy ordinances. But the federal government may push for legislation aimed at alleviating the national milk problem.

FATHER AND 3 CHILDREN DIE IN SUNDAY FIRE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fire claimed the lives of a father and his three young children in nearby Crescent Twp. Sunday, bringing to 14 the number of persons killed in Western Pennsylvania fires in a four-day period.

Victims of the latest fire were Miles O'Brien Sr., 34; his sons, Thomas 8, and Miles Jr., 7; and his daughter, Mary, 5.

Neighbors reported smelling smoke. Fire Chief Tony Marzak of Crescent Twp. said by the time firemen arrived, the 1½-story frame house was covered by flames.

O'Brien's wife has been a patient at Dixmont State Hospital for some time.

O'Brien had worked at the National Electric plant at Ambridge for 15 years. He also was a part-time custodian at Our Lady of Fatima Church in Aliquippa.

Four children perished in a fire near Adrian, Armstrong County, Thursday night. A mother, father and their four children were killed in a fire in Pittsburgh's Sheraden section Friday.

BILL TO END COMMISSION ON SALES TAX UP IN SENATE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate Democrats began marshaling their forces today for a possible showdown vote on a bill to raise $8 million by eliminating commissions paid to merchants for collecting the state sales tax.

Although Majority Leader Charles R. Weiner wasn't tipping his hand, other Democrats said privately that a vote on the Lawrence administration proposal probably would come Wednesday.

Democrats will need solid support among their 25 men required to pass the bill. The measure won House approval last Jan. 26. It has been in position for final Senate action since last April 4.

ATTENDANCE A PROBLEM

Absences in their ranks prevented Democrats from forcing a showdown before. But they were working hard to get their complement together by Wednesday.

Sen. John Carl Miller, D-Bever, who is recuperating from pneumonia, said from his Alliquipp home that he planned to be on hand then. He said he understood Democratic leaders also would have Sen. George J. Sarraf on deck. The Pittsburgh physician has been sidelined with an ulcer condition.

Another absentee — Sen. Benjamin R. Donolow, D-Philadelphia—returned Monday. His law practice has kept him away from Harrisburg.

SOME GOP SUPPORT

Sen. William J. Lane, D-Washington, assistant floor leader, said there would be some GOP support for the revenue bill. But he declined to identify who would be for it.

Meantime, the governor's secretary of administration, David Kurtzman, said the administration was willing to accept small manufacturers from paying the sales tax.

The bill was sponsored by Sens. Edward J. Kessler, R-Lancaster, and Hugh J. McMenamin, D-Lackawanna. It would apply to manufacturers engaged in assembly, fabricating, compounding or processing. It has been in the Senate Finance Committee since Feb. 27.

Other legislative developments: General Appropriations — The House, which plans a two-day session this week, scheduled a vote today on the general appropriations bill.

The measure was amended Monday night after a 90-minute debate to provide an estimated $7 to $8 million in additional state subsidies for school districts. The amendments were approved 120-61. Education — Senate Democrats

4 FROM STATE GET CARNEGIE HERO AWARDS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A laborer from Clearfield, who saved a 14-year-old boy from drowning, and three other Pennsylvanians have received bronze medals for heroism from the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

James W. Pittman, 38, was among 23 persons cited for bravery by the commission.

Others included David Jardine, 58, of Mercer R. 6, for saving a fellow worker from falling to possible death; Thomas E. Lucore, 41, of Erie, for rescuing a woman from her burning home; and Herbert J. Wright of Roscoe, Washington County, for saving three persons threatened by a gunman.

Pittman pulled Donald R. Fetzler of Clearfield from the rain-swollen West Branch of the Susquehanna River on June 15, 1960.

Fetzler slipped from the undergird of a bridge and dropped into the river. Pittman saw the boy fall and jumped into the water fully clothed and swam to him. He then towed the boy 335 feet through a strong current until he was close enough to shore to receive help from another man.

Jardine, a pipefitter, received his medal for rescuing LeRoy A. Marsteller, 36, of Sharon, Pa., at an electrical products plant in Sharon on July 28, 1960.

Marsteller lost consciousness while working on some steel beams 40 feet in the air and fell. His foot became wedged between a beam and a crane truck and he was left hanging upside down.

Jardine climbed a ladder, walked along a beam and lowered himself onto another beam about 35 feet above the concrete floor. He then gripped Marsteller around the waist and raised him enough to free his foot. He maneuvered Marsteller onto the beam and held him until help arrived on a lift. Marsteller was hospitalized with head injuries.

SAVED FROM BLAZE

Lucore was cited for crashing through a window into a burning home in Erie and dragging Mrs. Pearl T. Curry, 36, to safety on Jan. 4, 1960.

Mrs. Curry's husband had led their three children to safety shortly after the one-story dwelling caught fire, but his wife couldn't be found.

Lucore, who was passing by, entered the home and found Mrs. Curry unconscious on the kitchen sponsored a resolution Monday calling for appointment of a bipartisan committee to work on bills to implement the recommendations of Lawrence's Education Committee. It was similar to one defeated two weeks ago. The new proposal was approved by the Rules Committee and put in position for final action.

Urges New Laws To Aid Railroads

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The general attorney for the Association of American Railroads urges new laws to help railroads compete against government funds being spent for other forms of transportation.

Harry J. Breithaupt Jr. said Monday the government plans to spend a record $12.5 billion this year for highways, waterways, airports, airway facilities and air mail subsidies.

He told the Community Relations Committee of the Pittsburgh Railroads that a legislative program to aid railroads would be based on four freedoms.

Breithaupt listed them as "freedom from discriminatory regulation; freedom from discriminatory taxation; freedom from subsidized competition; freedom to provide a diversified transportation service."

JUNKMAN IS BIG WINNER

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Junk dealer George Kaufman is delighted with his $2 investment in a lottery ticket. It won him $150,000.

Kaufman, 47, recently shelled out $2 for a ticket in the Pan American Medical Foundation's Kentucky Derby Sweepstakes, which is sanctioned by the government of Bermuda.

At a drawing in Bermuda last Monday, 23 tickets were drawn and each was assigned a horse entered in the Derby. Kaufman drew Carry Back.

So sure was he of winning, he placed his ticket in a bank vault and turned down a $15,000 offer for it.

Carry Back, of course, won the Derby, and that gave Kaufman the top prize of $150,000. But Kaufman won't get all the money. A large part of it will go to the government for taxes.

And then there's the matter of the 25 per cent shares that Kaufman promised his grown son and daughter.

"They are holding me to it," he said.

Kaufman said he makes about $80 a week with his junk business.

Pitcher Bob Anderson of the Chicago Cubs made nine wild pitches and hit seven batters last season.

floor. He dragged her 12 feet to a back door where help was waiting and just minutes before the roof collapsed. Both Lucore, a plant guard, and the woman were hospitalized with burns.

On the afternoon of Feb. 4, 1960, a man told Wright, an electrician, that a gunman was threatening to kill two women tellers and the assistant manager at Roscoe bank.

Wright ran to the bank. There, he sneaked up behind the gunman and grabbed him around the neck, forcing him to release the weapon. State police arrived minutes later.

BOY TYPES OUT CONFESSION OF SLAYING MAN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 14-year-old boy, his right hand handcuffed to a chair, peeked out on a typewriter, "The Beginning of the End."

Then, Police said, Lincoln L. Tabb wrote, "It all started when I wanted money to buy me something to wear. I was going to rob, not kill. I did not mean to let go of hammer. I am sorry I took that man life."

That, police said Sunday was the first paragraph of Tabb's confession of the Feb. 25 murder of Adolph Kraschky, 38, a driver-salesman for Bond Bakeries.

Tabb and Moses McDuffie, also 14, were held on a charge of murder for a hearing.

They and a third boy, Montanez Kelly, 18, were captured in a stolen car Saturday after a four-mile chase.

ALL ARE NEGROES

All of the boys are Negroes. Kraschky was white.

A 22-calibre pistol found in the car led police to question the boys about other crimes. Then Tabb, in a slip of the tongue, admitted trying to rob Kraschky, police said.

Police said Tabb told them, "I did the Bond bread job . . . I mean the store at 51st and Folsom."

They said Tabb and McDuffie admitted carrying pistols, but Tabb insisted he was the one who shot Kraschky in his parked delivery truck. Kelly was cleared of any connection with the murder, but charged with theft and receiving stolen goods.

While McDuffie was dictating his statement, police said, Tabb asked if he could use a typewriter to tell his story.

SCHOOLS ELECT

HAARISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Association of Private Business Schools has elected John McCarten Jr., of Pittsburgh president at its spring meeting meeting here.

Others elected Saturday were vice president, Harry Ryan of New Kensington; secretary, Ethel Neal of Waynesboro, and treasurer, Peter Levitan of Philadelphia.

NEGRO HEADS STATE JAYCEES

READING, Pa. (AP) — William D. Johnson of Stroudsburg is the first Negro to become president of the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Johnson, 35, who owns an automobile repair shop, Saturday defeated Anthony D. Santunesano of Highspire for president.

Other officers elected at the Jaycees' annual convention were Herb Dutt, Fleetwood, executive vice president; Dr. George Dolinger, Scranton, first vice president; Buck O'Neil, Highspire, secretary, and Gerard Cockery, Philadelphia, treasurer.

National directors named were Jason Gregg, Franklin; Bob Ploutz, Latrobe; Dick Merk, Williamsport; Dick Carroll, Lebanon, and Art Baunch, Philadelphia.

David Hathaway, King of Prussia, was elected international director. Named administrative vice presidents were Edward Hill, Lewistown; Nelson Harntraft, Hatboro; Bernard Pipe, Media, and Hugh Ward, Chester.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Premier-designate Ali Amini says complete economic breakdown threatens Iran because resources have been wasted and government officials have been greedy.

The government's financial structures "are in their last breath," Dr. Amini said in a nationwide broadcast Sunday. He asked Iranians to help revive the economy by increasing production and by cutting needless expenditures.

Cuba, Well Tainted With Red Plans, Suffers From Fear, Chaos, Retaliation

EDITOR'S NOTE: What's the latest word from behind the "palm tree curtain" in Cuba? Richard Valeriani, National Broadcasting Company staffman, arrived in Miami Sunday in a plane load of refugees from Havana. A former Associated Press reporter in Cuba, Valeriani here tells his story for AP readers.

By RICHARD VALERIANI

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three weeks after the short-lived anti-Castro invasion, fear and repression still rule Cuba.

Out of the chaos which now characterizes the sun-bathed island, only one pattern emerges clearly—the pattern of Communist dictatorship.

The Batista tyranny toppled more than two years ago by Fidel Castro has been replaced by a new tyranny, all the more fearful because of the haphazard manner in which it operates.

ARMY RULES HAVANA

Havana today is in the hands of the military. All public buildings are sandbagged. Soldiers, teen-aged Young Rebels, militiamen and militiamen stand guard around the clock, their weapons slung carelessly about them.

Militiamen frisk all persons entering any public building. Women's handbags are searched minutely, down to tubes of lipstick. Visitors must open cigarette and match packs before entering hotels and other buildings.

"REIGN OF TERROR" — How long this will go on is Castro's decision but anybody's guess. It appears that he will maintain the repressive measures instituted after the abortive invasion in order to retain the iron grip he now has on the country.

Castro's police machinery began spreading its reign of terror within a few hours after the announcement of the invasion April 17. Conservative estimates place the total at 50,000 arrested throughout the island, although news from the provinces is scant.

G-2 agents and militiamen, apparently working from prepared lists as well as from tips from government-organized spy committees in every neighborhood, began arresting "unreliables" indiscriminately.

The American press was a special target. Their offices were occupied and looted or both. Almost all the American correspondents were arrested or forced into hiding and refuge. AP staffer Robert Berrellez was arrested the afternoon of the invasion, held for more than two weeks by the G-2 and then transferred behind the grim walls of La Cabana prison, greatly overcrowded like the rest of the Cuban prisons.

CHURCHES NO HAVEN

Churches offered no haven. Militiamen surrounded them, closed the doors and searched the worshippers inside.

The jailing of priests was common.

MUCH CONFUSION

The arrests have diminished considerably, and many of the prisoners are being released. But anyone who has ever uttered a doubtful word about the Castro regime walks in fear today.

The mass repression appears to have smashed the anti-Castro underground. Many were nabbed in the roundup. Many others took refuge in Latin-American embassies, which are bulging beyond capacity. The underground is depressed and demoralized—and yet angry.

SHEPARD WILL RETURN HOME

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—America's first space man, astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., returns today with his family to the cottage at Virginia Beach where his wife awaited the outcome of his historic venture.

Perhaps trying to spare Shepard the commotion that has attended him since his brief journey into space last Friday, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) declined to say just when the astronaut and his family would leave here.

An Atlantic Ocean resort preparing for the summer tourist season, Virginia Beach is not the place a person normally goes to escape the limelight.

CAUGHT BY SURPRISE — City officials, however, apparently were caught by surprise by the announcement Shepard was coming home.

That, plus the fact NASA would not say what time Shepard might arrive, ruled out the prospect of any planned celebration.

Shepard and his wife Louise spent Monday night at the visiting officer's quarters at Langley AFB, NASA headquarters.

They arrived late Monday from Washington after a day which left Shepard looking more tired than his trip in a space capsule from Cape Canaveral last week.

Some underground members still free told me they were given orders not to move two days before the invasion. Arms were distributed. Activation never came.

Reliable sources estimate that up to 50,000 persons within Cuba were prepared to take up arms against Castro. They now ask each other in frustration, what happened?

Winners In Annual Sewing Contest Held By Grange

MISS SLAYBAUGH

Miss Connie Slaybaugh, daughter of Mrs. Richard Slaybaugh, Biglerville R. D., and Mrs. John Kunkle, Biglerville R. 2, today were announced as winners in the annual Biglerville Grange 2063 subordinate level National Grange Sewing contest.

Miss Slaybaugh was the winner in class "D," while Mrs. Kunkle won in the Class "A" competition. Class D is for girls whose parents make their dresses while Class A contestants have to make the dresses themselves.

There were no entries in Classes B and C. The two winners are eligible to compete at the Pomona level in Red Lion May 13, and the winner there will go on to the state contest.

OTHER HONOR WINNERS

Miss Ethel Saunders, Gettysburg, placed second in the Class A division and Mrs. Richard Trone, Gettysburg R. 6, was third. Others submitting entries were Mrs. Harvey Slagle, New Oxford; Mrs. Pauline Crouse, Gettysburg; and Mrs. Albert Ebbert, Biglerville. Other entries in the Class D contest were Mrs. James McDannell, Biglerville, and Mrs. John Kunkle.

Mrs. Kunkle's dress consisted of a coordinated wash and cotton slender sheath dress with a prop jacket. The belt is self fabric. The dress is moss green while the jacket is white with green spots. She spent approximately 15 hours

Wingspread Opens As A New Center

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — Wingspread, an impressive structure termed by its late designer, Frank Lloyd Wright, as the "last of the prairie houses," has opened as a full scale conference center.

The building, completed 22 years ago as a private home on a 12-acre site overlooking Lake Michigan, was presented to the Johnson Foundation by Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Johnson.

The foundation is described as a philanthropic organization engaged in a broad program of assistance to educational and charitable organizations.

in making the dress.

Miss Slaybaugh's evening gown is of pink organza while the bodice is embroidered. The skirt has three sets of ruffles. It took Mrs. Slaybaugh about eight hours total to make the dress at a cost of approximately $14.50.

All the contestants modeled their dresses Saturday evening at the Biglerville Grange open house at the grange building along the Heidlersburg-Biglerville Rd.

Wife Cashes In On Hubby's Account

DENVER (AP) — This is about a Denver man who, like so many husbands, has a joint checking account with his wife at the bank. Only he has a separate account, too, for poker winnings and similar windfalls.

One day a vice president called him into his office and showed him a check written on the separate account and signed with the man's name. The signature was almost identical—but not quite—to the man's own handwriting. But the man said he'd be glad to approve it. He recognized the handwriting. It was his wife's.

SHEPARD IS YEAR'S FIRST BIG TV STAR

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., has emerged as the first big new TV star of the year. At a 60-minute news conference Monday carried by the three major networks, the hero of America's first manned space flight proved attractive, modest, quick-witted and flashed a delightful sense of humor.

The boyish-looking pilot fielded questions from a large gathering of reporters in Washington with a poised and easy air. He consistently used the word "we" in discussing the flight, explaining that "I am acutely aware of the hundreds who made this flight possible."

Before taking the questions, Shepard—with a grin—introduced his wife, his parents, his sister and his in-laws. At intervals he referred questions to officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and to fellow astronaut Gus Grissom. He made frequent reference to his six colleagues who shared the stage with him.

The televised news conference was preceded by two formal speeches by NASA officials which could have been dispensed with. Those in charge also permitted the session to continue too long—to a point where the questions were slow in coming.

NBC's interest in Cmdr. Shepard's progress was so great that the network postponed for a week the premiere of a new Western, "Whispering Smith." Instead, there was a 30-minute taped report of highlights of the astronaut's big day for the few who missed the live coverage and the regular evening TV news shows.

But that wasn't quite as free-handed a gesture as it seemed. The network has a sponsor ready and willing to pick up the bill for "Whispering Smith." Instead, there was a 30-minute taped re-

More than anything else keeping up a front has put many a motorist behind.

Owner diagnosis of car ailments may have a place in the automotive scheme of things, but in most cases it pays to let your mechanic reach his own decisions regarding trouble. Far too many car owners throw their helpers off the track advancing theories.

That is why so many seasoned mechanics take with a grain of salt the wording used by so many motorists to describe what seems to be wrong. There is a vast difference between a squeak and a scream, a rattle and a knock, vibration and ping or engine missing and jerking. Unfortunately the mechanic can't always experience what the owner is complaining about. But a good rule is to try to avoid misleading him. Let him do some checking on his own.

When told that the clicking noise he heard when pressing on the brake pedal was due to the spotlight switch one owner doubted the diagnosis and made the excuse that he could not leave the car for service that day. Later he discovered that the spotlight switch on his car was not the kind he had known on previous cars and that it could easily cause such a noise.

FOR FUTURE REFERENCE

A common cause of engine missing in wet or damp weather, but one likely to be overlooked is a cracked ignition distributor cap. This provides a spot for dirt and moisture to lodge, making a "track" for high tension current to jump across the cap. Such a crack is not always easy to see unless the distributor is taken off the car.

From service sources I find that a lot of power steering pumps have been returned to car factories branded as leaky when there has been nothing wrong with them. What looks like leakage often is merely expansion. Overflowing may also develop if the car is steered when the engine isn't running. This can happen when the car is being pushed or towed. Another thing that will cause the reservoir to overflow is a loose drive belt for the power steering pump. An interesting case of overflowing of power steering oil is found where the engine idles too slowly. Here manual steering overrides the power action.

MECHANIC JOE SPEAKING:

"Most customers wince when I tell them that the best way to solve a carburetor problem is to rebuild the carburetor, or replace it. Few things will improve an engine's operation more than reliable carburetor action.

"This is a hard working unit. Its float mechanism is constantly moving up and down, and there is wear on the tip of the needle valve as well as its seat. Passages become clogged with gums, adjusting screws and jets wear and there is certain to be need for rebuilding the acceleration pump. Many times we find that the carburetor is leaking air at the point where it bolts to the intake manifold."

IN THE MOTOR MAIL

Q. Is it permissible to oil exposed carburetor parts such as throttle linkage and the fast idle control? H. H. C.

A. Permissible and advisable but only after having cleaned them thoroughly with carburetor solvents.

Q. There is possibility that difficulty keeping the battery charged is due to a faulty switch for the light in the luggage compartment. How can I test this control? W. L.

A. Easiest way to prove whether it is working properly is to remove the light bulb and keep it out of action for awhile. If the battery continues to give trouble the switch is not to blame.

Q. Is it possible to adjust the length of time the windshield washer operates on my car? K. H. V.

A. Yes, there's a small screw for the purposes of adjusting the washer period. It is located in the side of the control at the top of the washer jar on your car.

Q. I have a non-slip differential on my new car. If one of the rear wheels fails to get traction as in mud, does all the power go to the other rear wheel? N. J. F.

A. Eighty per cent goes to the wheel with the better traction.

Q. Why does sludge take up so much room in the crankcase of today's car? Surely yesterday's engines slugged as much as they do today. N. V. R.

A. I think we formerly used our cars a little more efficiently because there was not so much stop and go driving, but the main reason sludge accumulations are so noticeable in checking the oil level for refills is because of the shallow oil pans.

Q. Has there ever been a V4 engine? L. N. Jr.

A. Several European engines are of this type. There also are 3-cylinder engines.

Q. My engine has never had an oil filter and I am thinking of installing one. Would this help to keep the engine running cooler on a very hot day? S. N.

A. A filter will help cool the oil and thus cool the engine, especially if it is mounted away from the motor block.

Q. I notice a definite chatter in the car when slowing down. The universal joints are not worn. R. P.

A. On your car this is due to faulty downshifting of the automatic transmission. Bands need tightening.

Q. On the level at ordinary speeds the engine of my car seems to be quite smooth, and extremely quiet, but on hills it starts to miss. New spark plugs haven't helped the situation. F. L. C.

A. The tip-off is the engine's unusual quietness because this particular make isn't noted for silence. You will find that the mechanical tappets in this engine are adjusted for too little clear-

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

Traffic enforcement officers in the adjoining states of Indiana and Illinois have a major problem in sorting out local violators from out-of-state drivers this year. Both states have license plates with white lettering on red background. Police officials are predicting "utter confusion" for officers attempting to obtain reports from witnesses to accidents. The Illinois secretary of state has asked the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators to review state color choices in the future.

Drivers who are issued learners' permits by the Rhode Island Registry of Motor Vehicles are being provided with special regiments that glow in the headlights of other cars and inform motorists that the operator of the car is a student driver.

A woman driver in Knoxville, Tenn., went into a police station to request that a traffic ticket be fixed. While she was inside, her car was ticketed for illegal parking in front of police headquarters.

The British Safety Council would like to ban all records of the American rock-and-roll song, "Tell Laura I Love Her." Leonard Hodge, director of the English group, says, "The disk's nauseating theme, which glorifies the violent death of a teen-ager in an overturned, blazing car, is going to foster a glorious-death cult among youngsters."

BRITAIN MAY HAVE TO BUILD NEW SPY GROUP

LONDON (AP)—Britain's military intelligence service may have to dismantle its entire spy network and rebuild from scratch as a result of the unmasking of diplomat George Blake as a Soviet agent. Political pressure is building up for a complete overhaul of the nation's security services.

The disclosures about Blake, who was sentenced last week to 42 years imprisonment, sparked warnings from both Laborite and Conservative ranks in Parliament that they will press the government to explain how he was able to operate for nine years without detection.

Particular concern is being expressed that the blanket of official silence over the Blake affair may have been imposed to cover up blundering by top brass rather than on genuine security grounds.

Blake, a prisoner of the Communists during the Korean War, worked afterward for the Foreign Office in double harness as a diplomat and member of Britain's military intelligence service.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said precise details of Blake's activities could not be revealed.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The new U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, Frederick E. Nolting Jr., arrived Monday with assurance of American "determination to support the independence and integrity" of this Communist-threatened ally.

down a stop sign at a major intersection and threw it in a nearby sewer, probably giggling at the great joke their warped minds had conceived. The action wasn't so funny to the three people involved in the resulting collision. The absence of the reflective stop sign caused one driver to drive right into a busy intersection he failed to note in the darkness until it was too late to stop.

A man escaped death in a Texas highway accident when his car ran off the roadway and overturned, killing his companion. He extricated himself from the wreckage and was immediately struck and killed by a passing car!

A driver in California answering a drunk-driving charge explained that the traffic light was yellow when he drove through it. He was fined $150 when the arresting officers explained that there wasn't any traffic light.

BUYING A USED CAR?

Timely Tips That Can Help Protect Your Investment!

1. Choose your dealer carefully.
2. Buy only from a well established reputable dealer.
3. Buy only from a dealer who maintains his own adequate facilities to service the car you buy.
4. Insist on a WARRANTY in writing that can be "backed-up."
5. BUYING from a NEW CAR DEALER IS YOUR BEST BET. . . Most new car dealers sell locally owned trade-ins, not Used Cars obtained from Auto Auctions or distress merchandise from large cities.
6. Insist on knowing where the Used Car came from. "Ask who was the previous owner." Most new car dealers will be happy to tell you and invite you to contact the previous owner.
7. New Cars bought from Used Car Dealers . . . REMEMBER, only the New Car Dealer is authorized to extend a FACTORY WARRANTY to a buyer, NO ONE ELSE.

ACTOR LIVING OWN LIFE IN GRAND MANNER

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Few actors since the late John Barrymore have been able to live up to the grand manner of his.

Cyril Ritchard is one. "This idea of just being a Tom, Dick or Harry is all wrong," said the Australian-born star, now appearing on Broadway.

"The people in the theater should be a race apart. When they appear in public, which should be seldom, they should look as glamorous as they do on stage."

HAS WON RENOWN
Ritchard made his most memorable hit in this country several years back in the role of Capt. Hook in "Peter Pan," in which he costarred with Mary Martin.

But over a 44-year career on three continents he has won renown as a play and opera director as well as for his genius in musical comedy.

At 62, the tall actor looks 45. That can be partly due to the attributed to his theory that life should be lived in the grand manner.

"I live in a small world of my own," he said, putting down his second luncheon martini and reaching for his sea food.

Civil War Statue Gets New Paint Job

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP)—Old Mother Bickerdyke, a statue of the famous Civil War nurse on the Knox County courthouse lawn, again was daubed with green and red paint.

Officials say the identity of the vandals is unknown.

The last time a paint job was done on Mother Bickerdyke, Monmouth College students in a feud with Knox College took out their vengeance with paint brushes.

Officials made them scrape and wipe until every speck of paint disappeared.

valet, Eddy Parr, an ex-British army cook; and two other servants in his city apartment. It also includes two more servants at his country place.

Describing his country place, Ritchard said:

"It's just a small hideaway—5½ acres—with a small lake and a small waterfall.

"Everything is lit up at night—even the trees—because, after all, I am theatrical.

"I have beavers and bird baths, and a deer comes in now and again for afternoon tea.

"All this helps keep me sane."

KEEPS IN SHAPE
Ritchard keeps in shape by swimming and playing badminton but says his real hobby "is living—enjoying a sound life apart from the theater, although I'm not sure just what is sound.

"But I enjoy getting up in the morning. I like the days. I don't like parties after 1 a.m. They are boring.

"What else bores me? Well, self-appointed critics, smugness, successful businessmen—unless they're humble—people who are satisfied, and people who are hypertense and lack control of themselves.

"But the young never bore me. They can be helped, and I like to help."

SHEBOYGAN FALLS, Wis. (AP)—Former Boston Red Sox pitcher John W. Wyckoff, 69, died Monday.

Wyckoff went to the Red Sox from the Philadelphia Athletics in 1916 and played three seasons. He was a native of Williamsport, Pa.
